I. ANNOTATION

“Finance function in a digital world” provides the essential knowledge and skills for systematical understanding and analysis of the enterprise finance mechanisms in the context of digitalization. The students are encouraged to acquire understanding of the latest international business affairs, their interconnectivities and novelties of information systems in companies, based on the restrictions and advantages of the fourth industrial revolution. The current changes in business world are summarized and used to better present to the students knowledge in marketing, operational and human management, through the main purpose of finance function- value creation. “Finance function in a digital world” aims to make it possible understanding the complexity of modern digitalized information systems, purposed to serve finance function, as well as the relation with multiple aspects of business.
