“The ONE HUNDREDTH anniversary in ONE HUNDRED frames – the University of Economics – Varna since 1920” is a jubilee album with the panels from a documentary exhibition, displayed from October 20 until November 19, 2020 on the alley next to the Sundial in the Varna Sea Garden and dedicated to the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the first higher economic school in Bulgaria. The decision to set up the school was made in 1914 at the 21st session of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry. The school’s opening on May 14, 1920 marked the beginning of the Bulgarian higher economic education.

The anniversary album and documentary exhibition were realized under a project with the financial support of the Culture Fund of the Municipality of Varna under heading 2.1. Visual Arts.

The aim of the project is to show young people and the rest of the audience the significant history of the University of Economics – Varna, as well as its leading role in the cultural and educational life in the city and the country. Through the documentary exhibition the academic history goes beyond the closed spaces of the university building so that the general public can feel and get closer to the centuries-old academic spirit in a different and accessible urban environment.

The anniversary album preserves some of the most valuable archives and contemporary photographs, as well as copies of documents, related to the history of the University of Economics – Varna, preserving the memory of the event and the collaboration between the university and the Culture Fund of Varna Municipality.

The first professors at the Higher School of Commerce came from Moscow, Paris, Budapest; they had specialized in Berlin, Leipzig, Munich, Vienna, Salo, Geneva, Prague, or the Professor of Accounting, Frits Belin, Professor of Political Economy and Theory of Statistics, Janis Deltinov, Professor of Statistics, Economic Geography, and Financial Sciences, Oscar Anderson. The scientific reputation of the Higher School was created by lecturers such as Namli Arrandov, Professor of German, Slavc Philology and Philosophy; Ivon Keminov, Professor of French Literature; the poet Nikolai Lir; who taught French, Professor of Finance, Stancho Cholakov, who later became Minister of Education, Minister of Finance and Governor of the Bulgarian National Bank...

The new curriculum, based on similar narrative basis as those of the Berlin University of Commerce, which had the reputation of being the most modern in its time in all Europe, The Bulgarians should have helped in the training of teachers for secondary commercial schools and postgraduate training of auditors of commercial books. Until 1936, the university trained general economists, accountants, financial and commercial specialists, and then two types of degrees were formed: private and national economy. Existing until 1949.

Until 1925, the Higher School of Commerce had a two-year course of study, as was the practice in most European higher economic schools. From the academic year 1925/26 to the academic year 1936/37 it had a three-year course of study, which was increased to four years starting from the academic year 1937/38.

The buildings of the University of Economics - Varna today

The interior design of the academic building of the University of Economics - Varna is quite impressive, housing Viennese ceramic flooring, forming the so-called “blue carpets”, metal railings and stylish glass doors. A rich collection of paintings and graphic works by prominent artists.

Today, the interior has been successfully further improved, creating an aesthetic work and study environment. The marble lobby on the first floor opposite the official entrance is a bust sculpture of the first Rector Prof. Tsani Kalayndzhiev - the work of sculptor Kiril Yanev.

Bright colors in the unique atmosphere of the university building are played by the monumental paintings Allegory of the State and Allegory of The Shore, the ceramic panel Wall of Symbols and the donation of graphic works by the world-famous artist Prof. Stanimir Stanov.

In the offices, corridors and dining halls, the stained glass windows and glass sculptures by Yun Vassilier tell their fairy tales.

The portraits of the Rectors, painted by the artist Yordan Podev, are exhibited in the permanent art exhibition on the second floor of the building, a kind of a visual archive of the university history.

On the first floor is the modern Student Street with the Information and Career Center, bookstore, bank, the International Cooperation office, the Dormitories and Scholarships office and the Student Council. The street is enriched by the permanent exhibition of paintings donated by the prominent artists. Nikola Menez, whose works also adorn conference hall 1 and auditorium 128 named after Prof. Tsani Kalayndzhiev.

The University Gallery Academia houses prestigious exhibitions of established authors and debut shows of talented students.

Today the educational process takes place also in the Second Building, and the future professional knowledge of students is given not only in the University, but also in the city of Varna.
